

Arrigo F.G. Cicero, MD, PhD, Board qualified in Clinical Pharmacology, Clinical researcher by the University of Bologna, President of the Italian Nutraceutical Society (SINut), currently involved in different Clinical researches (Mono- and multi-centre clinical trials on dietary supplements and drugs) and epidemiological studies (mainly, the Brisighella Heart Study and its sub-studies), he is author of Author of more than 350 full scientific papers published on international press (among which 320 on Pub-Med, total 2016 IF>1080, Scopus h-index= 40), 90 full papers published on national scientific journals, 10 full books, 17 chapters in national and international books, 21 full papers published on national and international congress proceedings, mainly in the fields of diet, dietary supplements, and preventive medicine (among others, on NMCD, J Am Diet Assoc, J Am CollNutr, Eur J Nutr, Eur J ClinNutr, Nutr Res and others). He is also reviewer of papers for numerous high-quality scientific journals in the field of internal medicine, cardiovascular disease prevention, metabolic diseases, nutrition/nutraceuticals, pharmacotherapy (ex.: The Lancet, BMJ, Arch Intern Med, Circulation, Hypertension, Atherosclerosis, BMC Public Health, Exp Opinion Drug Safety, etc.) and he is invited speaker on the same topics in national and international courses and meetings. Finally, he is member of the editorial board of some journals (among others: Current Topics in Nutraceutical Research, High Blood and Cardiovascular Prevention), and reviewer of scientific projects for the European Commission and other financing entities.